DETAILED ACTION

Priority

Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Claims 1 and 2 have been cancelled.

Claims 3-5 have been examined.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 3-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Raschinen (DE 8906899U) in view of Jauch et al (DE 19620330).

Raschinen discloses a permanent shaft-hub connection comprising: a central shaft (1), at least a first (21) and a second (22) toothed wheel hub secured to the central shaft, the first toothed wheel hub being adjacent to the second toothed wheel hub (Fig 1), the first toothed wheel hub having a first section (9) superimposing a second section (25) of the second toothed wheel hub in a stepped fashion.

Art Unit: 3679

However, Raschinen does not disclose the wheel hubs being secured to the central shaft by a shrinkage fit nor the first section and the second section being secured to each other by a shrinkage fit. It is first noted that the specific method of forming is not germane to the issue of patentability of the device itself. Therefore, the limitation "shrink fit" has been given only limited patentable weight. See MPEP § 2113.

Jauch et al teach a similar connection between toothed wheels (4,6) and a central shaft (2) being a shrink fit (Applicant's instant disclosure, Paragraph 15) to prevent the disadvantages of micromigration. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the shaft to hub connection of Raschinen to be shrunk fit as taught by Jauch et al to prevent the disadvantages of micromigration. It is inherent that the second toothed wheel of Raschinen, while being shrunk fit to the shaft, would also be shrunk fit onto the first toothed wheel (at 4 and 7) to the same degree since, during the "shrink fitting" process, the second hub (22) would be fit onto the step portion (9) of the first hub (21).

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. US Patents 5630671, 6276863, 5788401 are all cited to show similar shrink-fit connections.
